Another Transcontineutal Line.

From a railroad official who has just returned from the Northwest is learned that the new Rio Grande Midland route between Ogden and Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs via the Rio Grande Western, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Colorado Midland, through Leadville to Denver, will be opened for business the latter part of this month. The Denver & Rio Grande and the Colorado Midland jointly have built from Grand Junction to Glenwood Springs. The Pacific coast business of the new route will be handled by the Rio Grande Western, and this road is getting ready to make a vigorous fight for this traffic in competition with the Union Pacific. The new route practically opens a new transcontinental line, and a very picturesque one. At Denver it will connect with five systems of roads leading eastward. Arrangements for handling through business beveen San Francisco, Chicago and the East have already been perfected.

The Baltimore & Ohio company contin-nes to make large expenditures on all branches in the system, to put it in condi-tion to move all the freight and passenger traffic offered. There are building for this line at the present time 3,000 freight cars and some very fine passenger equipment. A warm personal friend of James Charlton, general passenger and ticket agent of the Chicago & Alton, quotes him as saying that he would not accept the chairmanship of the Western Passenger Association under any circumstances. He says when he leaves the Alton he will retire from railroad life altogether.

Superintendent Mansfield claims that the Indianapolis & Vincennes road is living strictly up to the rules of the Indianapolis Car-service Association; that under these rules, on certain classes of freight, the consignee has ninety-six hours in which to un-load his freight. THE GREAT COCOA OF EUROPE. THE LEADING ONE OF AMERICA.

"Best & Goes Farthest-Largest Sale in the World-Once Tried, Always Used" THE DRINK QUESTION

is ever coming to the front. What beverage shall we drink to quench thirst? The most popular non-intoxicant is Cocoa, which is rapidly supplanting tea and coffee as a national beverage. There are many excellent Cocoas, but in advance of all other preparations stands Van Houten's, the original, which is universally declared to be perfectly pure, free from fat, easily digested, delicious to the taste, nutritious, and a stimulant without any depressing after-effects. VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA was introduced into the household of the late Emperor of Germany upon high recommendation. The senior physician of the London Court Hospital has used this brand of Cocoa for many years. It is strongly recommended to Students and all whose duties involve much wear and tear, whether mental or physical. For these reasons it has earned the highest encomiums of the leading analysts of the day.

What shall we drink to raise the spirits high? VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA, is the universal cry! The purest and most delicious; The best and most nutritious.

It only needs a single trial to convince any one of the superiority of Van Houten's Cocoa. Please insist upon your grocer or storekeeper ordering it for you, and take no substitute. It is put up in one-quarter, one-half, and one-pound cans. If not obtainable, inclose 25 cents in stamps or postal note to either Van Houten & Zoon, 106 Reade Street, New York, or 45 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and a can will be sent by mail. Prepared only by Van Houten & Zoon, Weesp-Holland.

which has for two months been the heaviest ever known. The other 2,400 cars are not now sufficient to supply the demand for the coal carriage of the lines.

General Passenger Agent McCormick, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, is renew-ing his efforts to induce the Vandalia to join hands with his company and put on through vestibue trains between St. Louis and Cincinnati, similar to those run be-tween Chicago and Cincinnati over the Monon and the C., H. & D. He will hardly abandon his efforts in that direction until he accomplishes what he has set out to do.

The master mechanics on the Wabash system met in Fort Wayne on Wednesday last to make comparisons of the work and output of the company's shops the last year. J. B. Barnes, general superintendent of motive power of the system, was in attendance and complimented the master mechanics on the work they had accomplished in the last two years in bringing the power of the Wabash line up to its present perfection.

Some disagreement has been fermenting for several days between the Big Four and the Ohio & Mississippi railroads. It resulted yesterday in a reduction of rates by the Ohio & Mississippi to take effect to-day. The fare from Cincinnati to St. Louis is reduced to $6; to Beardstown, $7.40; to Pana, $5.35, and to Springfield, $6. It was announced that these rates are good only if tickets are used before Sept. 30, and that tariff rates will be restored Sept. 23.

President Ashley and several other officials of the Wabash are on an inspection of the line, and were in Kansas City yester-day. The Kansas City Star says: "Presi-dent Ashley, in speaking of the Wabash-Erle affair, laughed at the idea of shutting the Wabash out of the Chicago east-bound business. He said the Wabash will construct its own tracks to Chicago within a year unless the Erie consents to a traffic arrangement so that the Wabash can continue the use of the Erie tracks from Laketon to Hammond."

With the retirement of George Butler as district passenger agent of the Big Four, the last of the old line of district passen-ger agents drops out, I. D. Baldwin, of the Monon, being the only one left that has the tint of age in service resting on him. Robert Emmett, of the Vandalia; Walter Nichols, of the Bee-line; Frank Wade, of the Wabash; Wilbur Lee, of the C., B. & Q.; John Martin, of the Big Four; W. H. Fisher, of the C., H. & D.; Thomas Peck, John McCord, and several others have either gone out of the railroad business or gone up higher in the ranks. An old rail-roader remarked last evening that time only would tell whether the placing of younger men in these positions has bettered the service. More faithful, active passen-ger men than were Emmett, Wade, Martin and Butler are hard to find.

GERMAN METHODIST MINISTERS.

They Vote Strongly Against Admitting Women Delegates to the General Conference.

The second day's session of the Central German Methodist Conference began yesterday morning with devotional exercises. Bishop Fitzgerald presided, but the service was conducted by Rev. Louis Miller, of Huntingburg. Proceeding to business, Edward Kress, Batesville; Benjamin Beal, Pittsburg, Pa., and Christian Spaeth, Irving. Mich., were elected to elders' orders. Dr. Hurst, secretary of the American Bible Society, was introduced and addressed the conference in regard to the work of the society. Rev. J. S. Wahlen, of the Eastern German Conference, was admitted into full connection with the Central Conference. Rev. J. Vigus, State superintendent of the Bible Society; Rev. J. S. Tevis, of the Southeastern Indiana Conference; Rev. Ward, of the Lexington Conference, and Rev. Mersfelder, the last an elder, coming duly recommended from the United Brethren in Christ, were accorded a like privilege. Rev. Jacob Brown, Saginaw, Mich.; Rev. H. G. Lich, Louisville, Ky., and Rev. J. G Schaal, Cincinnati, were elected to fill vacancies in the conference board of trus-

The question submitted by the General Conference to the local conference, Conference to the local conference, as to the admission of women delegates to the general body, was put to vote and was defeated by a vote of 78 to 7. Franz Schurmann, Delaware, O.; Christian Baumann, Cleveland, O.; Herman Rogatsky, Michigan; F. Huhnle, Marine City, Mich., and F. W. Schneider, Berea, O., all of whom were deacons of the first class, were advanced to be deacons of the second class. Arnold Baur, Michigan, and J. Baechtold, Louisville, were retained in the first class. William Jauch, Ripley, O., and Frederick Kapsch, Hamilton, O., were continued on the list of pastors. John Koehler, Saginaw, Mich., and Basiluis Fischback were held on trial under question No. 3. Delegates were elected to the tion No. 3. Delegates were elected to the ecumenical conference in 1891, as follows: Dr. William Nast, editor of the Christian Apologist; Dr. Jacob Rothweiler, presiding elder of the Cincinnati district; R. A. W. Bruehl and J. Schultz. The two latter

The interesting ceremony of the admission of candidates to deacons' orders was conducted by Bishop Fitzgerald, the following young men presenting themselves: Charles W. Helwig, Brookville: C. E. Sev-eringhaus, Cannelton: John Claus, White Creek circuit; David Dobbric, Kendallville; John E. Brann, Cincinnati, O.; J. Kuhn, Petoskey, Mich., and Hartman Ban, St. Phillips. The usual questions testing their knowledge of the doctrine and discipline of the church, and the duties of their office, were put to them, and satisfactorily answered. The Bishop then addressed them on the step they had taken, and the life of consecration and duty which lies before them. The ceremony of admission, he said, was their vow to the church, and a contract between each, individually, and the church to teach its doc-trine as the system of truth on which the church is built. To teach any other doctrine with these vows upon them would be dishonest. He cautioned them against yielding to a pretentious liberalism, under a desire to be broad-minded. He hoped doubt would not come to them, but if it did, he advised them to keep their condition of mind secret till the conference met, and then formally withdraw from the met, and then formally withdraw from the church. The conference would regret the mental disturbance of belief, but would still hold them in esteem. As to church polity the importance is not the same and wider liberty is allowed. Still, the rules of the church must be obeyed as long as they continue as they are. In this particular he brought out the rigid rule as to the use of tabages, by ministers. The Bishop's adtobacco by ministers. The Bishop's address impressed the young men, and all others in the room paid marked attention

The conference voted to recognize the deacons' orders of Friederich Brauer and and the elders' orders of M. Weidmann, both of Cincinnati. They came duly recommended from the Evangelical Association. The afternoon was devoted to committee meetings, and the evening was taken up Santa Fe had a surplus of 3,000 coal cars lying idle on its side-tracks for which there was no use. Six hundred of these cars were converted into fruit cars, and have helped to awell the traffic of California fruits, was crowded to its utmost capacity. CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Judge Howland Decides the Suits the City Brought Against the Trust. Judge Howland yesterday gave a decision in the seven cases brought by the city against the Consumers' Gas Trust Company to compel fulfillment of its contract. The suits were brought under a section of the ordinance which specifies that any company accepting the ordinance shall proceed to extend its mains on streets adjacent to those where pipes are laid sixty days after the passage of a resolution requiring the extension; provided it is petitioned for by the property-holders along the street, and provided that 10 per cent. of those property-holders shall agree to take gas from the company. It is further provided that the extension shall be deemed reasonable and just by the Council.

In these suits it was alleged that the company had failed for sixty days to comply with the order of the Council requiring the extension on certain streets, and alleged that the order of extension had been petitioned for by the property-holders on the street, 10 per cent. of whom had agreed to take gas. The Trust first filed a general denial, but afterward withdrew it and set up several pleas. One was based on the theory that the Council did not have information that 10 per cent. of the petitioners had agreed to take gas. This answer the judge held to be had. Another answer was that 10 per cent. did not agree to take gas before the passage of the order of extension. This answer was held to be good. Another answer made by the company was that the petition was not signed by all the property-holders on the street. This the judge held to be essential. He, therefore, held the answer to be good which averred that all the property-holders had not signed, and that 10 per cent. of all had not agreed

The company also averred that it had not the money to do the things required of it. The judge also held this answer to be bad, but the decision is, upon the whole, looked upon as favorable to the Trust.

Seeking Her Husband's Release.

Mrs. Poole, the unfortunate Madison woman whose husband was recently sent to the work-house for associating with improper characters, came to the city yesterday, having learned of her husband's whereabouts from the Journal. She visited him at the work-house, and then went to the station-house, thinking to get his release. She was informed by Turnkey Taffe that she would have to wait till morning, and see the Mayor. Having no money she was directed to go to the Friendly Inn for the night, but soon returned, saying that they would not receive her without pay, even for the night. Mr. Taffe then sent her to the James House, with money enough to pay her board and lodging till morning. Similar incidents have frequently happened in the experience of the police, who would like to know what kind of an institution the Friendly Inn is,—whether charitable or money-making in its purpose. charitable or money-making in its purpose.

Evansville Lodge, No. 116, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was incorporated yesterday, with Harry Stinson, A. Barclay and John Albecker as trustees. The Connersville Lonuge Company also filed articles of association with the Secretary of State. Its capital stock is $6,000, and the directors are John Keller, sr., John Keller, jr., and Edwin R. McIlwain.

DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY

The Most Complete Newspaper in all Departments in the State of Indiana.

No newspaper in the West is more widely or more favorably known than the Indianapolis Journal. By the display of enterprise and strict attention to the wants of the reading public, it has taken a leading position among the most prominent journals of the country, and is certainly among the best. Among the newspapers of the State it is pre-eminently the best, and Indiana readers can nowhere else find what they want in the way of State and local news. It circulates largely in every county in Indiana and has correspondents in every town and village of importance. Its market reports are prepared with the greatest care possible, and no pains or expense are spared to make them accurate and absolutely reliable. It is the only newspaper in the State owning and publishing all the news furnished by the two great press associations (the Western Associated Press and the United Press). in addition to which it furnishes an abundance of special service from all the principal cities of the country. It has been, and will in future be, the aim of the publishers to make the Indianap-OLIS JOURNAL a perfect and complete newspaper, deficient in no department or particular. The paper challenges comparison with any of its contempo-

No Indiana reader, certainly no Indiana Republican, should be without the Journal. While it is thoroughly and soundly Republican in politics, devoted to the interests of the Republican party, the Journal will not allow its news to be colored by partisan bias, but will give the news of the day without fear or

Owing to the prominence of Indiana in the national administration, the Journal gives particular attention to Washington news, which will be given far more completely than ever before. For this reason, if for no other, no Indiana reader can afford to be without it.

In addition to its new features, the Journal regales its readers with the productions of some of the best known literary men and women of the day. Many of the most celebrated magazine writers and authors are contributors to its literary columns, making it a paper for the household and home circle. Special arrangements have been made for features of this character, which will appear in the Journal during the coming year. These appear most largely in the SUNDAY JOURNAL, which is a special edition, and can be subscribed for and received exclusive of the DAILY JOURNAL.
